

input rate (in analysis)

The number of samples that are processed by the instrument divided by time of operation. It should be stated if the residence time is included or not.

See residence time.

1989, 61, 1663