

retention temperature (in chromatography)

The column temperature when the peak maximum for a component has been reached in temperature-programmed chromatography.

O.B. 105